What Does Adirondack Winery Offer?

Adirondack Winery which is known as Lake George's premier local winery offers over thirty-five fruit-infused and traditional varieties of wines. They currently have a tasting room in both Lake George and Queensbury. Lake George is the original winemaking site but they are adding another winemaking facility at their headquarters in Queensbury that is slated to open this spring.

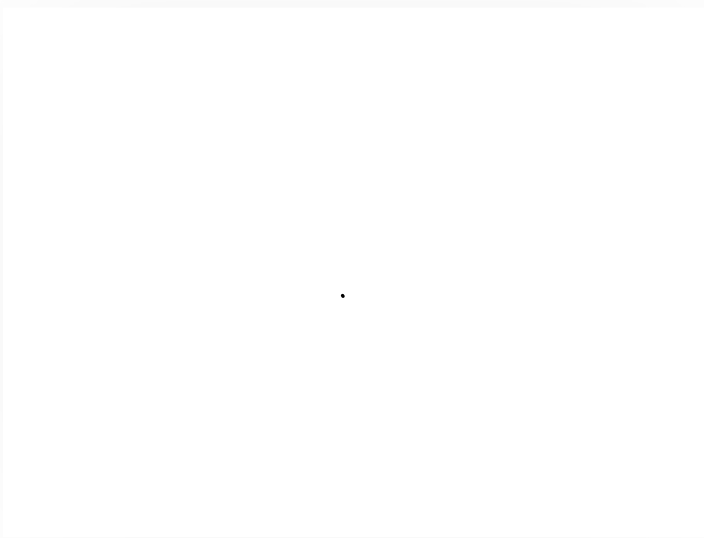

What Will the New Queensbury Facility Offer?

The Queensbury location will have a fourteen thousand square foot winemaking facility and tasting room. They will provide patrons with wine, food, and craft beverage experience that is unique to any other winery in the region. There will be wine by the glass, wine flights, charcuterie boards, summer outdoor seating, and tours of the facility according to Saratoga.com. They can also hold bachelorette parties, private events, birthday parties, and other celebrations up to one hundred and fifty people. Get ready for a fun celebration of wine and friends.
